II. General Overview

The purpose of the course is to provide the students with theoretical knowledge of Leadership and its relevance as a concept and provide them with opportunities to apply this knowledge in analyzing, understanding, and solving problems in the modern business world and developing their leadership competencies.

III. Course Objectives

The course has two objectives: The first is for the students to gain clarity concerning leadership principles, values, and ethical boundaries by introducing them to some of the main theories and the tasks, strategies, and skills of effective Leadership. It will also involve understanding core and key competencies and how they are used in managing and optimizing organizational performance. The second is for them to learn how to build and work in teams to maximize results. It involves understanding the concept of leadership competencies, using the experience to identify and develop their leadership competencies.

IV. Learning outcomes

By the end of the course, the student should be able to

- Recognize the importance of Leadership as a concept.
- Identify different leadership theories and their practical application in organizations.
- Distinguish the significant elements that influence Leadership in organizations to optimize control and direction in management.
- Recognize the importance of leadership attitudes and practices have in the ethical management of organizations.
- Analyze corporate strategy and determine the “core competencies” that derive from the correct analysis of competitive advantage.

- Identify the concept of “key competency” to align personal attributes with roles and responsibilities within an organization to gain effectiveness.
- Identify their key competencies and the implication of their development for their future as professionals.
- Work effectively in teams contributing to the achievement of the team’s objectives and leveraging the experience for personal leadership competency development.

V. Methodology

This course offers a teaching perspective based on activities that promote the transfer of knowledge through exposure to theory and practice. Learning sessions combine professor and students’ presentations and discussions, group dynamics, case analysis, virtual games, and other activities in which students’ participation is expected. Therefore, reading chapters in the textbook and the complementary articles is mandatory and should be completed on schedule.

VI. Evaluation

The evaluation system is permanent and comprehensive. The course grade is obtained by averaging the ongoing assessment or PEP (60%), the midterm (20%), and the final exam (20%).

Ongoing evaluation is the weighted average of corresponding assignments to track the student’s learning process in reading controls, case analyses, presentations, and team assignments.

The final grade (PF) is obtained in the following manner:

$$PF = (0,20x EP) + (0,60 x PEP) + (0,20 x EF)$$

Where:

- FP = Promedio Final (Course Final Grade)
EP = Examen Parcial (Midterm Exam)
PEP = Promedio de evaluación permanente y (Ongoing Assessment)
EF = Examen Final (Final Exam)

The weights within the ongoing evaluation are described in the following table:

Ongoing Assessment (PEP) 60%
Type of Evaluated Activity	Description	Weight %
Reading controls	7 reading controls *	25%
Case analyses	2 situational case analyses	15%
	1 business case analysis (in 3 parts)	15%
Presentations	4 presentations 	25%

Leadership Competency Development	Individual Leadership Competency Report Project	15%
Participation	Class Attendance, Participation, and Use of Virtual Classroom	5%
Total PEP	All evaluated activities	100

*7 Reading Controls will be delivered individually and in teams. The teacher will eliminate the Individual Reading Control with the lowest grade; therefore, only 6 RC will be considered in the final score.

** Teams will prepare their presentations according to the instructions given on the first day of class. At the end of each class, the team sends the document on an EDITABLE template to obtain the teacher’s feedback.

*** Students will receive written instructions and due dates for these activities. Due dates must be complied with; otherwise, the students will have a grade of “0” on these projects.
